Essen, July 15, 2025 – The myneva Group has become a new member of the National Association of Digital Health Care (SVDGV). As a leading European software provider in the social sector, myneva is reinforcing its strategic commitment to actively shaping the digitalization of care and social institutions – in collaboration with partners from the healthcare industry, politics, and civil society.

“Our decision to join the SVDGV is a logical step to contribute our European perspective and many years of experience in the social sector to the political and professional discourse,” says Dieter Weisshaar, CEO of the myneva Group. “We see it as our responsibility to actively help shape the digital transformation in care and social services across national borders – in a practical, interoperable, and human-centered way.”

The National Association of Digital Health Care (SVDGV) is a central platform for companies that develop digital solutions for the healthcare sector and advocate for their sustainable integration into care delivery. As a member of the association, myneva will participate in political dialogue formats, expert working groups, and the development of common standards – with the goal of making innovations quickly, safely, and effectively available to care institutions and end users.

“With myneva, the association gains a committed member that brings valuable insights from the care and social sector at the European level,” says Dr. Anne Sophie Geier, Managing Director of the SVDGV.

“It is precisely the combination of technological expertise and social responsibility that makes myneva a strong driving force within our network.”

myneva contributes, in particular, the perspective of the care and social sector from eight European countries to the work of the association. With solutions such as myneva.care, myneva.connect, and myneva.analytics, the company pursues a platform-based approach to advance digitalization across sectors and to ease the daily workload of care professionals and social workers.

“Europe is facing similar challenges – from staff shortages to excessive bureaucracy. Digital solutions are a key to ensuring sustainable care delivery,” emphasizes Sascha Platen, Head of Consulting DACH at myneva.

By joining the SVDGV, myneva is sending a clear signal for collaboration, transparency, and cross-sector solutions – bringing the European voice of the social sector into the further development of digital care.
